SECTION K
TERMS OF REFERENCE

APPOINTMENT OF A SERVICE PROVIDER TO PROVIDE ACCREDITED AND NON-ACCREDITED TRAINING TO FARMERS AND UNEMPLOYED AGRICULTURAL YOUTH GRADUATES FOR A PERIOD OF 3 YEARS

1. BACKGROUND

- 1.1. Agriculture as a sector, together with its downstream activities, contributes 15-16% of the Gross Domestic Product (GDP) of KwaZulu-Natal. Due to the good reliable rainfall and fertile soils, the region's agricultural sector has become very productive, and is known for its specialist capability in several types of farming. The province has a total of 6.5 million hectares of land for farming purposes of which 82% is suitable for extensive livestock production and 18% is arable land.
- 1.2. The Department implements various projects through the Comprehensive Agriculture Support Programme (CASP) conditional grant. As part of capacity building aimed at ensuring sustainability of supported projects for realization of value for money, the Department is providing training to its beneficiaries. This will assist the Department to achieve the impact it ought to achieve with the investments made in various agricultural projects, which will in turn, make a positive impact on economic growth and food security of the Province and the Country as a whole.
- 1.3. One of the key reasons why training in agriculture is crucial in KwaZulu-Natal is that it promotes sustainable farming practices. Agriculture in the region is faced with challenges such as climate change, soil degradation, and water scarcity. Proper training equips farmers with knowledge and skills on sustainable farming techniques, such as conservation agriculture, agroforestry, and integrated pest management. These practices help to conserve natural resources, protect the environment, and improve the long-term productivity and resilience of agricultural systems.
- 1.4. Training in agriculture also plays a significant role in improving productivity and profitability. Agriculture is a complex and dynamic field that requires continuous learning and adaptation to changing circumstances. Training provides farmers with up-to-date information on modern farming technologies, best management practices, best agricultural practices and market trends. This empowers farmers to make informed decisions, optimize their production processes, and access lucrative markets. As a result, farmers can increase their yields, improve their incomes, and enhance their overall livelihoods.

- 1.5. Furthermore, training in agriculture promotes innovation and entrepreneurship. Agriculture is not just about primitive farming methods; it also encompasses agribusiness, value-addition, and diversification of products. Training in agricultural entrepreneurship equips farmers with skills in business planning, financial management, marketing, and value-chain development. This enables them to explore new opportunities, add value to their products, and access credible markets. Training also encourages innovation in areas such as crop breeding, post-harvest handling, and agro-processing, leading to the development of new technologies, practices, and products that can boost the competitiveness of the agricultural sector in the Province.
- 1.6. Technological changes and dynamics will fundamentally continue disrupting how the sector operates and imposing new demands. The Fourth Industrial Revolution (4IR) can potentially have a positive impact on productivity and profitability by boosting yields and lowering costs. Equally, it poses a negative effect on employment by reducing labour demands. Emerging technology, such as drones and autonomous robots, enjoins the Department to harness training of farmers with extensive farming in arable land, hydroponics operation and computer and data analysis skills for the sector to remain competitive.
- 1.7. Investing in agricultural training programs and initiatives can yield significant benefits, not only for farmers but also for the broader community, economy, and environment in KwaZulu-Natal. It is against this background that the Department intends to appoint a suitably qualified service provider that will provide Credited and Non-Credited Training to farmers and unemployed agricultural youth graduates. The Department's commitment to providing training to farmers and the youth has been reaffirmed by the Honourable MEC's pragmatic stance to appoint graduates who became top achievers in different fields of agricultural studies from the Department's Colleges under the Unemployed Agricultural Graduates Youth Programme (UAGYP) in the new cohort that will be recruited in the current financial year, 2023/24.
